

Vitor Silva - Sons of the Wind School of Equestrian Arts - Returns to Rhodes River Ranch!

Sons of the Wind was established in the fall of 1997 by Vitor Silva. Headquartered in Merrimac, Massachusetts, the School of Equestrian Arts provides a venue in which riders expand their abilities in a progressive manner on equine schoolmasters, many of which perform to the Grand Prix level. Students – from amateur enthusiasts to instructors and competitive riders – come to Sons of the Wind from across the United States, and represent a diverse range of backgrounds, interests, and riding disciplines.

With his passion for classical dressage, Vitor Silva returns to Rhodes River Ranch this spring to share a wealth of knowledge and skill acquired through years of study with recognized riding masters of Portugal.
